UNCLE WIGGLY'S BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGLY AND JIMMIE'S POCKETS.

(Copyright, 1935, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

BY HOWARD R. GARIS.

"Now, don't forget what I told you, Wiggly," called Nutsy, the fuzzy wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, to the bunny rabbit gentleman one day, as he started away from his hollow stump bungalow.

"What did you tell me?" asked Mr. Longears, as he looked into his tall silk hat as though he might find it in it what the muskrat lady was speaking about.

"I told you to bring me a dozen eggs from the hen house of Mrs. Cluck-Cluck-Cluck," said Nutsy, "and I want them as fast as you can get them."

"Oh, no you didn't!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "I was thinking so much about my adventure I might have that I nearly forgot about the eggs."

"Well, please remember to bring them," begged Nutsy, and Uncle Wiggly said he would.

Off he started, hopping over the fields, and his pink nose twinkled as fast as a lady bug, seeing it, thought it was a red automobile going to a fire, but wasn't.

"Well, I don't believe this is going to be a very good day to look for adventure," said Uncle Wiggly when he had hopped on for a mile or so and nothing had happened. "I guess I'll go get the eggs and see what takes place next."

Uncle Wiggly was at Mrs. Cluck-Cluck-Cluck's house and the hen lady gave the bunny gentleman a dozen eggs in a paper bag. "Be careful of that bag," she warned him. "It isn't very strong and may break."

"That's what happened my sugar bag the other day," Uncle Wiggly remarked. "But I'll be careful."

He was hopping home toward his hollow stump bungalow, when all of a sudden, the egg bag began to burst, and the eggs commenced spilling out.

"Oh, my! This is too bad!" cried the bunny. "But I managed to catch in my paw every egg before I could get it and be broken. And there Uncle Wiggly stood in the woods, holding onto the eggs by his paws and with nothing to put them in."

"I wish someone would help me," he said. And just then there was a rustling in the bushes, and along came Jimmie Whiskerbottom, the boy duck.

"I am so glad to see you! Will you help me to save the eggs? Take some while I put the eggs in my pockets. And can't you put some in your pockets?"

"No," quacked Jimmie, with a shake of his head. "I can't put eggs in my pockets, but my pockets are full."

"Very well, then, let me tell you," begged the bunny of the duck boy. And when Uncle Wiggly had as many eggs in his pockets as they would hold there were still six eggs left.

"Why can't you put these in your pockets, Jimmie?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Because I have a top in one pocket," said Jimmie. "A ball of kite cord in another. In my third pocket are some marbles and I've got two old knives in a fourth pocket. Then in my other pockets I have some pieces of clam shells for make-believe money, some nice stones that I traded with the other animal boys, and I've got some pencils and some buttons and some bits of tin and some beans and some picture cards and some—"

"Oh, my! Stop! Stop!" begged Uncle Wiggly. "I forgot that boys carried so much in their pockets. I guess I used to do the same when I was young. But never mind, Jimmie, I'll put these six eggs in my hat, and if I walk slowly I won't break them."

"I'm sorry," said Jimmie. "I suppose I could take the things out of my pockets, and—"

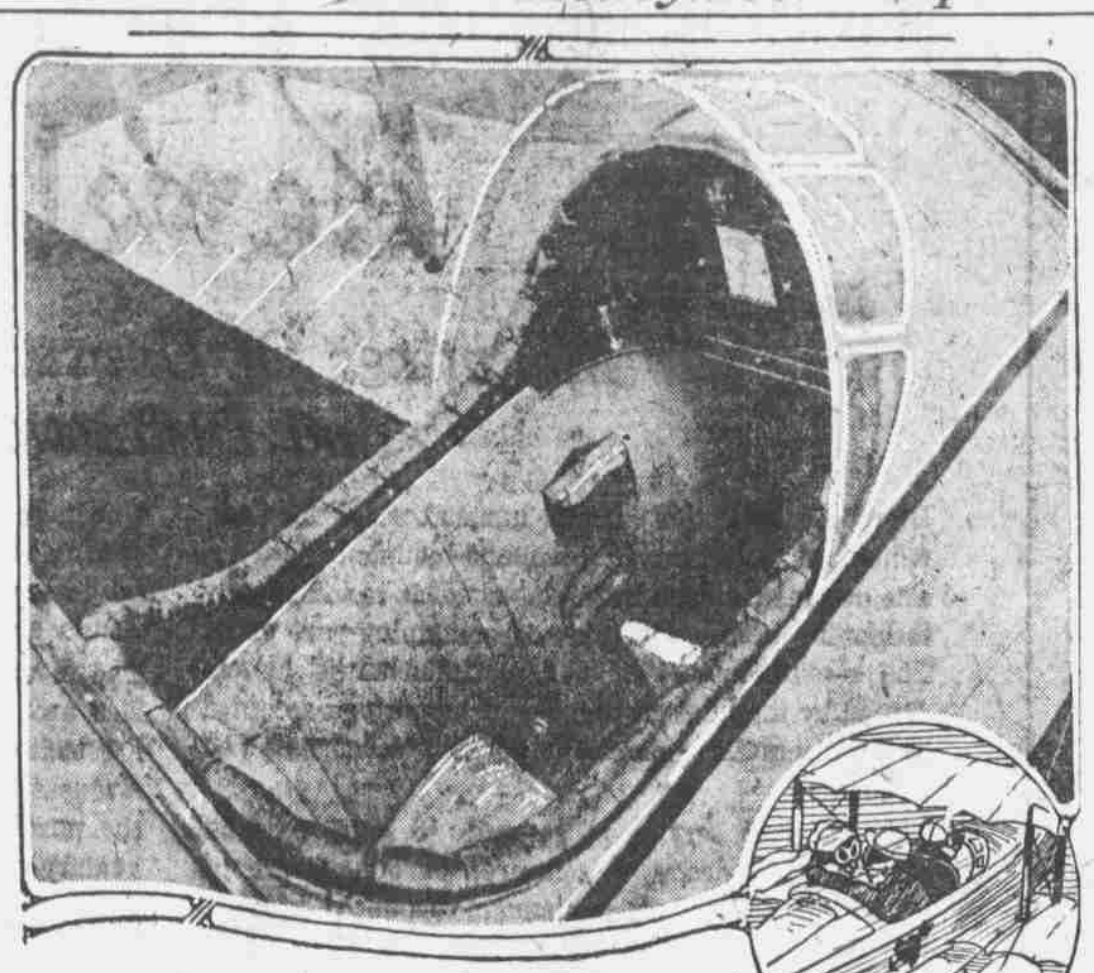

"Oh, never mind, thank you!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "I dare say you need all the things you have."

So he and the duck boy went through the woods. Uncle Wiggly carefully carrying the eggs, and all at once out jumped a bad old fox.

"Now you run away and let Uncle Wiggly alone, or I'll tie you all up in hard knots!"

And the fox ran away and Uncle Wiggly safely reached his bungalow with the eggs. But this only goes to show that it's a good thing boys have lots of pockets. And if our cat doesn't dip her tail in the ink bottle and give the whisker brush a black mark, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Alice's ear puffs.

Not One Convenience Missing in The Newest "Honeymoon Express"

A glimpse into the tonneau of the "Honeymoon Express."

The honeymoon trip of 1935 is going to come high, but it is coming just the same.

A half-century ago honeymooners used to use the canal boats for trips of this sort; then the old-fashioned horse and buggy provided something of an improvement; the train came along later and offered a new idea in honeymoon journeys and held the center of the stage until the railroad flyer but it all over any previous means of travel.

Now the railroad has outgrown its usefulness as an agency for happiness. It always had its disadvantages, at that. Your "just married" couple always found it rather difficult to pursue their love-making in railroad trains, because there were too many other people, strangely interested, sitting around watching them.

"This is one of the features that will be eliminated when the 'Honeymoon Express' comes into its own in 1935."

The "Honeymoon Express" will make possible honeymoon journeys by air. It will be a new and novel thing to be sure, but the airplane points the way to undisturbed honeymoon trips and that is one of the reasons why it is going to prove popular.

Of course one of these "Honeymoon Express" airplanes will likely set out back $20,000 or so, but what's $20,000 to honeymooners?

The new airplane, designed by a Dayton airplane manufacturer for comfortable air travel, will have a capacity of 125 miles an hour and will carry three persons, one too many, maybe, but you just must have a pilot. He sits in front, far enough away not to be disturbed by the chattering in the honeymoon apartment in the rear.

The apartment is covered over when needed, to protect the lovers from rain or cold weather. There is a vanity box for the girl; a humidifier for cigars and a cigar case for the man; mirror, clock and such chests. The apartment is carpeted and completely equipped with swivel chairs for the bride and groom. A little table can be let down so lunch can be served in the "Honeymoon Express."

Daily Recipes

Baked Bean Loaf.

Maash well three cups baked beans, add one and one-half teaspoon celery salt, one onion chopped fine, two cups fine dry bread crumbs, two beaten eggs and one-quarter cup milk.

Mix well, pack in a buttered loaf tin, pour over it two tablespoons melted butter or bacon fat. Bake 40 minutes and serve as you would a meat loaf. Tomato sauce can be used with it or it can be served cold as you would meat.

English Herring Salad.

Soak four large or six medium sized salted herrings in cold water to draw out the salt, then pick the meat from the bones, divide into small pieces and mix with an equal quantity of cold meat, using veal, mutton or beef as preferred; then add three hard boiled eggs, two large boiled potatoes and two apples all cut into small pieces. Chop a hard boiled egg and sprinkle the potatoes over the salad. Serve with salad dressing.

Noodle Soup.

One-half hour before dinner, drop the noodles into enough boiling water to cover them. At the end of 30 minutes add one quart of hot milk and three tablespoons of margarine. Season with salt, pepper and grated onion. This will serve four persons very generously.

LINE OF MARCH FOR BIG PARADE CHANGED

Officials in charge of the big patriotic demonstration and parade which will be held Sunday by negroes and in which it is expected that more than 1,500 negro soldiers in uniform will march with about 1,000 war workers, have altered the plans for the line of march. The parade instead of being organized at Church's park, will be organized at the Plymouth Community house, 125 Walnut avenue and will be held at Church's park where a celebration will be staged.

The line of march, which has been changed to avoid traffic congestion, as now arranged, will be from the Plymouth Community house on Mississippi boulevard, down Mississippi boulevard to Calhoun avenue, thence to Main street, north on Main street to Jackson avenue, east on Jackson avenue to Second street, south to Beale avenue and on Beale avenue to Church's park.

The parade will begin forming at 1 o'clock and marching will be started at 2 o'clock. At Church's park a big patriotic mass meeting will be held with Dr. W. T. Vernon as the principal speaker. Two brass bands have been engaged for the event.

A Line On Men You Read About

Sir Horace Plunkett, who is in the United States on a brief visit, which, he is careful to explain, is not in any sense official, is widely known to the people of this country as well as to Irishmen everywhere.

Last year the eyes of the world were focused on him, when for eight months he sat as chairman of the 11th convention, representing all political factions.

He is a son of the sixteenth Lord Dunsany and an uncle of the playwright, Lord Dunsany. He was a knighted by King Edward. He enjoyed close friendship with Theodore Roosevelt, and numerous other acquaintances and friends in the United States.

"The Irish question must be settled, and settled soon," declares Sir Plunkett. "That is the dictate of prudence as well as of justice. To British statesmen I say—settle this Irish question—settle it now with the materials at your hand. Do your part and we will do ours."

You have never yet called forth the best that is in Ireland. The spirit of our heroes who went forth to war, but always fell, is not dead.

"Give us self-government, that you may have your honor and we our respect."

FARMERS BUY LIME.

BLUTHVILLE, Ark., March 28. (Sp.)—Farmers here have purchased through I. A. Howard, county agent, several cars of crushed limestone and are applying same to their land that is a maximum instead of a minimum of crop yield may be produced in the future as well as the present year. That most farmers here mean to produce plenty of reeds this year is evidenced by the many additional acres that are being seeded to alfalfa.

FINNS GRATEFUL.

STOCKHOLM, March 28.—The Helmsing newspaper says that Food Administration's generous donation to the relief of the Finns has been received everywhere in Finland with gratitude, strengthening the feeling of sympathy with America.

Announcement was made in Washington late in December that on recommendation of Herbert C. Hoover the shipment of 15,000 tons of food to Finland has been authorized.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1935.

(Copyright, 1935, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day, but the kindly stars predict, Mars and Mercury are in better aspect, while Jupiter and Saturn are adverse. It does seem that the best sort of news concerning the war will be transmitted, and it is believed that the peace treaty will be signed earlier than has been expected.

All the signs are favorable for the army, and many soldiers will be honored. While there will be revelations that are distressing in regard to military matters, these will be overshadowed by reports of supreme achievements. Many heroes will not be recognized until long after peace has been attained.

Again the position of the planets in the eleventh house appear to foretell sensational scenes in the United States senate.

Some sort of trouble is threatened for the Viceroy of India, and earthquake shocks are to disturb the Orient.

Warning is given that there will be a period of busy in morals and too much license in the conduct of many persons in the United States. There is a sinister sign for the summer. After the spring ends there will be a gradual settling of the ferment of the world, and widespread prosperity is prognosticated for the United States.

Frauds connected with revenues and a possible depreciation of securities should be guarded against in the next six months.

Intense activity in regard to shipping is predicted and a sudden growth of commerce is forecast.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the promise of a quiet year. There will be many changes and numerous new friends, but it will be wise not to travel to any great extent.

Children born on this day probably will be kind, generous and affectionate, but rather erratic and wayward. They have in them the elements of success.

TREASURE TROVE NEGRO GETS YEAR IN PRISON

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 28. (Sp.)—Tom Green, a negro, who last fall induced E. D. Fier, another negro, to part with $144 on a pretense of showing Fier the location of a buried treasure, was Wednesday given sentence of one year in the penitentiary by the Circuit court.

Green told Fier he knew where the treasure was buried and agreed to show him where it was, taking him to a very dark place in the Southern portion of the city and while Fier went for a spade Green held his money but when Fier got back Green had left with the $144.

NEGRO BOYS WILL JOIN WORKING RESERVE FORCE

JACKSON, Miss., March 28. (Sp.)—Registration of negro youths in the Boys Working Reserve in Mississippi will take place for three days beginning April 7, according to announcement by Prof. Burr H. Gibson, director of this feature of the Labor Department's program.

Registration will be held at school houses and Prof. Gibson urges a complete enrollment. Training courses will be given a few leaders from each county at Alcorn A. & M. and the schools at Okolona and Brookhaven early in the summer.

BOY JOINS NAVY.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 28. (Sp.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cady, of this city, Tuesday received a letter from their son, Francis, saying that he had left the Rock college and enlisted in the navy to be a wireless operator. Young Cady's parents did not know that he intended to enlist until after he had left for the Great Lakes Naval Training school. The boy is not 18 years of age.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY IS DROWNED AT PINE BLUFF

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 28. (Sp.)—Clifton Pilkington, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Pilkington, of this city, was drowned Thursday afternoon in Harding's drain at Sixth avenue and Missouri street. He and two companions were playing near the edge of the bridge when he slipped and rolled into the water below. Before aid could be called the lad had drowned. The body was found half an hour later. Both the child's parents were out of the city at the time and he was staying with his grandmother, Mrs. Tom Dillon, and during her absence upstairs he left the yard to play at the bridge.

BRIDGE TRAFFIC OPEN.

NEWBERN, Tenn., March 28. (Sp.)—The concrete bridge on the Dyerburg road, Newbern road, over Lewis creek, west of Newbern, has been opened for traffic, after being out of commission for several weeks owing to the work of the dredgeboat which has been in operation in draining thousands of acres in the Lewis creek drainage district.

AMUSEMENTS

Loew's Lyceum.

Frank Morrell, who has been before the public for many years as one of the leading tenors of the world, and who gained considerable renown as the organizer and member of "That Quartet," which made a tour of the world, is headlining the new bill at Loew's Lyceum. Morrell still possesses a voice full of melody and his repertoire is one especially arranged for vaudeville purposes. Morrell is assisted by a pretty young woman who acts as a foil for some of his comedy which is larded with his songs in a most pleasing manner.

Harold Woolf and Helen Stewart have developed a comedy act written by Mr. Woolf, entitled "Major Petties." The troubles of a major of the army and a woman, home on leave, are brought out in a comedy manner.

Marie Malcolm, pianist, is a treat for music-lovers with her classical selections and her popular numbers have a general appeal for all vaudeville goers. The Mark Brothers are seen in novel athletic evolutions.

Elise Ferguson in "His Parisian Wife" is the star. The story revolves about the adventures and romance of Fayette, the Paris girl reporter, who wins all American hearts and is snubbed by his folks. How she wins them over after numerous situations of considerable cleverness, interest, makes the picture one of Miss Ferguson's best. Loew's News Weekly and a comedy are added.

Orpheum.

Demonstrating the spirit of patriotism of the foreign-born citizen of the immigrant class, Basil Allen, now appearing at the Orpheum this week, in a sketch called "Recruiting" are doing their bit. Mr. Basil, the author, and himself the son of an Italian immigrant, knows his subject well. He shows in forcible fashion the deep sense of loyalty that burns in the hearts of America's adopted sons. The theme has to do with the difficulties of settling a naturalized Italian who desires to enlist for service in our army. The comedy which is clean and wholesome, results from the Italian's inability to understand and correctly answer the questions put to him by the recruiting officer. The Littlejohns offer a daring dramatic act, the paragon, mainly used in their exhibition of jugglery, is studied with jewels, there being over half a million stunts of different species.

"Twin Beds."

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's famous musical, jocular, rollicking comedy will be new at the New Lyric Sunday and Monday nights. The impetus in "Twin Beds" never rests. It begins with a girl and ends with a girl. Each act is a wave of fun, the complications are intensely dramatic, while the dialogue is thorough. The point of "Twin Beds" tells the story of three couples who live in a fashionable apartment house, with apartments directly above one another, who begin by being neighbors and end by loathing the neighborhood that they live in. New Lyric.

Everyone associated with the production of Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical success entitled "You're in Love," which will be the attraction at the New Lyric theater Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, has an enviable fame in his particular field, and this musical play is described as their joint masterpiece. Life, youth and love, that eternal triangle—that is as old as the wheels of time, are most charmingly pictured in "You're in Love," with its delightful music, keen, subtle, captivating lyrics and sprightly dance numbers, and have made an impression on all theater-goers that will linger in their memories long after many other musical offerings have been forgotten. The cast has been well chosen and the chorus is typical of Mr. Hammerstein, the girls being young and with well-trained voices.

SINGERS TO MEET.

NEWBERN, Tenn., March 28. (Sp.)—An all-day rally will be held at Yorkville, eight miles east of Newbern, Sunday, when the Gibson county singing convention will convene for a one day session. A musical program has been prepared for the occasion, which promises to be the greatest event ever held in the history of Gibson county. Prominent singers from Dyer and adjoining counties will attend the convention and assist in the singing. It has been the custom of the organization to meet every year at some point in the county.

Wage Committee Hopes To Avert Possible Strike

The two committees selected by the Builders' Exchange and the Building Trades council, respectively, to arbitrate wage changes sought by the contractors by various organized efforts are expected to get together for their first conference on or before Tuesday night, according to the announcement made by A. G. Field, secretary of the exchange.

In the meantime replies are being awaited to requests made jointly by A. L. Pritchard, chairman of the Builders' Exchange, and J. Phelps, of the Building Trades council, to the painters, carpenters, electricians and metal workers to hold their demands in abeyance until the arbitration committee can complete its investigation and report. It is expected that the painters were expected some time Friday, as the demands of this craft were to become effective April 1.

The two committees of arbitration are as follows: Builders' Exchange, A. L. Pritchard, chairman; D. M. Crawford and L. S. Akers; Building Trades council, B. E. Buffum, chairman; George Farnsworth and O. L. Briggs. These committees were selected by representatives of all lines of contracting and craftsmanship.

HUN OUSTING OF ROYALIST OFFICIALS CONTINUING

BERLIN, March 28. (By the Associated Press.)—That the new Prussian government is vigorously attacking the problem of ousting members of the royal regime from important posts in the provincial administration is indicated by the appointment of Herr Philip, of Breslau, as first president of Silesia, and Herr Polier, of Kiel, as head of the administration of Schleswig-Holstein. Both men are socialist.
